

Trauma and Attachment Learning Forum

Aim: Discover how schools use trauma-informed, attachment-aware approaches to build strong relationships with children and young people.

Outcomes: Gain practical strategies to embed trauma-informed, attachment-aware approaches, enhancing relationships and support for vulnerable students.

Workshop Option: Relationships Across A Learning Community

Led by Samantha Rooke, Headteacher at President Kennedy School, this workshop explores how a large, diverse secondary school serving a disadvantaged community adopted a relational approach. It will also cover partnerships within its Multi-Academy Trust and the wider impact on partner schools and the Local Authority.

Keynote and Plenary

Hayley Clacy, Headteacher at Spen Valley High School will kick off the day by sharing the school's journey to becoming Trauma Informed.

Andrew Wright OBE, Chair at The Attachment Research Community will close the day.

Other Workshop Options

Each delegate is invited to attend 2 workshops

A Thrive Approach: Led by Sheep Dip Lane Primary Academy.

Learning Brain v Survival Brain: Led by Fiona Morris, SENCO at Spen Valley High School.
